Dear Federal, State and Local Authorities:

PRIDE Industries is a critical part of our community providing essential services such as electronics manufacturing for medical devices and food packaging; custodial services cleaning, food service and pest control at airports, prisons/correction facilities, government facilities and military bases; public works construction; recruiting for critical providers such as Amazon; retail support at pharmacies; distribution services of computer components supporting the healthcare industry and providing state-funded transportation as part of social services through the Department of Developmental Services.

To deliver these essential services, PRIDE Industries continues to operate in support of our customers who are deemed essential businesses as defined in Governor Newsom's stay at home order. These employees are requested to travel to the affected areas to provide these essential services. This includes custodians, facilities maintenance workers, shipboard provisioning workers, commissary employees, retail cashiers, bus drivers, electronics manufacturing, packaging, order fulfillment/ shipping/ receiving employees, social services personnel, and administrative support personnel who are not able to work remotely.

While at work, PRIDE is ensuring all team members are maintaining social distancing of 6 feet apart, washing their hands regularly and using all required personal protective clothing/ equipment. Our management teams will be strictly enforcing these required safety protocols.

This letter is provided as authorization for PRIDE Industries designated personnel, vendors and transportation providers, who are working on our behalf, to have access to our various worksites. Please allow these PRIDE Industries representatives to travel to and enter their work facilities.
