The History of Veterans Day

On November 11, 1918, at the eleventh hour, an armistice between the Allied nations and Germany was reached, leading to the Treaty of Versailles and the end of World War I.

To commemorate the end of the “war to end all wars,” President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed that November 11 would be celebrated as Armistice Day. To further honor and recognize the contributions of all military members, Congress later renamed this observance Veterans Day.

A Message From Our President and CEO, Jeff Dern

Veterans Day is a time to express gratitude and appreciation for those who have served our country in the military.

At PRIDE Industries, 7.5 percent of our workforce is comprised of military veterans, including many with disabilities. We’re proud of our innovative and inclusive employment practices in support of our nation’s veterans, which has earned us recognition by U.S. Veterans Magazine as a national leader in veteran employment.

We welcome and support veterans and their loved ones. Our annual Veterans Salute recognizes the many PRIDE Industries employees who have served our country, risking all to protect our freedoms and democracy. In the pages that follow, you will meet some of these individuals and learn about the many ways we advocate for, recruit, support, and promote our veteran employees.

To all of PRIDE Industries’ veterans, we celebrate your dedication to our nation. We thank you, and we salute you.

With deepest appreciation,

Jeff Dern
President/CEO, PRIDE Industries

THANK YOU TO OUR VETERAN SUPPORT PARTNERS

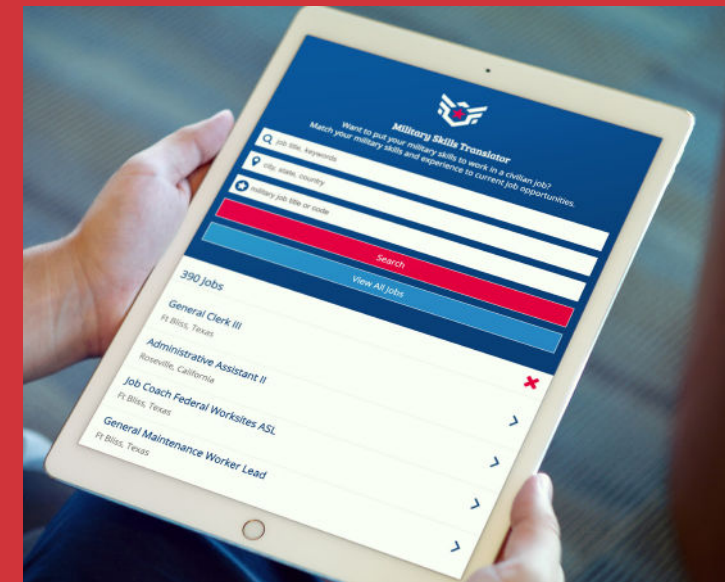

VETERANS EMPLOYEE RESOURCE GROUP

PRIDE Industries' Veterans Employee Resource Group (ERG) meets once a month to provide support, mentorship, and career counseling. The Veterans ERG also focuses on veteran recruitment and recognition through outreach, networking, and educational activities.

MILITARY SKILLS TRANSLATOR

PRIDE Industries' Military Skills Translator helps veterans match their skills to available job opportunities within PRIDE Industries. The tool can be found on our website: PRIDEindustries.com/work-with-pride/military-veterans

I AM ABLE® EMPLOYMENT HELPLINE

Our I AM ABLE Helpline (844-426-2253), available currently in California, provides assistance to military veterans who are transitioning to civilian employment.

Veterans Employee Resource Group

Employee Resource Groups foster awareness, respect, and inclusion for PRIDE Industries employees with shared life experiences. They act as a collective voice around common issues or concerns, promote belonging and a respectful workplace, and address diverse community needs inside and outside the company.

DID YOU KNOW?

PRIDE Industries has eight active and diverse ERGs to choose from!

- » The Black Employee Network (BEN)
- » Hispanic Heritage
- » Millennials
- » 'Ohana (AAPI)
- » People of Possibilities (Employees with Disabilities)
- » Professional Women's Network and Friends
- » Veterans
- » Living in Color (LGBTQ+)

With more than 100 members, PRIDE Industries' Veterans ERG is one of the largest and most active groups in the company. The group's monthly meetings feature guest speakers from organizations like the Wounded Warrior Project, address topics like mental health, and support recruiting efforts such as our National Hire a Vet Day events. Outside of meetings, ERG members perform community service such as holiday food and toy drives.

The Veterans ERG often teams up with other ERGs to broaden the reach of its support to veterans. Just recently, the Veterans ERG has joined forces with:

- The Millennials ERG to discuss "Millennials Transitioning from the Military into Civilian Life" to share experiences and support for the largest generation currently serving in the military.
- The People of Possibilities (POP) ERG to promote PTSD and C-PTSD awareness.
- The Black Employee Network ERG to join the Walk Challenge for fitness, with members logging hundreds of thousands of steps!

And the Veterans ERG members look out for each other by participating in Buddy Check 22 wellness check ins, R.E.D. Fridays, and Wreaths Across America.

- The Buddy Check 22 project: In 2013 the Department of Defense found that, on average, 22 military veterans take their own lives every day. Buddy Check 22 became an informal program encouraging veterans to call fellow veterans on the 22nd of each month. Veteran ERG members regularly check in on each other.

- R.E.D. Fridays: R.E.D. stands for "Remember Everyone Deployed," and is an informal campaign to wear red clothing on Fridays to show support for all deployed troops serving in harm's way.
- Wreaths Across America: Veterans ERG members join the more than two million volunteers and supporters who gather to lay wreaths in honor of fallen heroes at more than 4,600 participating military cemeteries and other locations in all 50 states, at sea, and abroad.

You don't have to be a military veteran to join the Veterans ERG. Many members are spouses or children of veterans, or individuals who simply want to honor and support the veteran community at PRIDE Industries. All are welcome.

"The Veterans ERG has allowed me to connect with other veterans and support across PRIDE Industries business lines and get to know people I might not have otherwise had the opportunity to meet."

PRIDE Industries Joins Army PaYS Program

On July 25, National Hire a Veteran Day, PRIDE Industries held a signing ceremony marking a new partnership with the U.S. Army through the Partnership for Your Success (PaYS) Program. This innovative program provides America's soldiers with valuable employment opportunities as they transition from military service to civilian life.

The signing ceremony was held on National Hire a Veteran Day in order to highlight our dedication to helping military veterans of all abilities find sustainable employment. We offer employment services to veterans from all branches of the military.

"We would like to extend a heartfelt welcome to PRIDE Industries as a new PaYS partner," Antonio Johnson Jr., Program Manager at PaYS, said at the signing ceremony. "The U.S. Army is a reliable recruitment source for businesses, with an endless pool of qualified talent. We're pleased that PRIDE Industries is committed to helping soldiers find employment after military service."

PaYS Program partner companies offer guaranteed job interviews to soldiers leaving Army service. To date, over 1,292 employers have partnered with the PaYS Program, demonstrating their commitment to supporting soldiers in their transition to civilian employment. With our extensive experience in providing employment opportunities and support services to military veterans, we are proud to join this group of supportive organizations.

"We recognize the immense value that veterans bring to our workforce," our President and CEO Jeff Dern said. "Their experience serving our country instills in them a strong work ethic, adaptability, and leadership skills that are highly sought after in the civilian job market. We are honored to partner with the U.S. Army through the PaYS Program and look forward to providing meaningful employment opportunities to even more veterans."

The PaYS program is one more addition to our many efforts to directly employ military veterans. We offer an array of resources and services for veterans seeking civilian employment, including job coaching, vocational instruction, and employment placement assistance.

As part of the signing ceremony PRIDE Industries Vice President of Talent Management Tim Young and Army Captain Saif S. Hassan, sliced a celebratory cake with a military sword.

PRIDE Industries Hosts Hire a Veteran Day Events Nationwide

PRIDE Industries actively recruits military veterans at all levels of the company, including through our PRIDE Government and PRIDE Federal subsidiaries, which have a mission to create employment for military veterans through federal contracts. We are proud to count hundreds of veterans of all ranks and branches among our employees, leadership team, and Board of Directors.

On July 25, 2024, we hosted a series of nationwide recruiting events to celebrate National Hire a Veteran Day. Events were held at locations across the United States, including:

- Sacramento, California
- Fort Bliss, Texas
- Fort Johnson, Louisiana
- Los Angeles, California

We welcomed veterans from all branches of the military to participate in the events, and 240 veterans joined us. Attendees had the opportunity to learn about the diverse range of career opportunities available, from administrative roles to skilled technical positions. Recruiters were on hand to provide personalized guidance and answer questions about our culture, benefits, and career paths. New hires were made at each site!

A highlight of the events was the emphasis on the transferable skills that veterans possess and how they align with the requirements of various roles within PRIDE Industries. We are committed to recognizing and leveraging the unique experiences and qualifications that veterans bring to the workforce.

In addition to the recruiting efforts, we also offered support services to veterans, including resume writing assistance, interview preparation, and vocational training opportunities. These services are designed to help veterans successfully transition from military service to civilian employment.

The National Hire a Veteran Day recruiting events around the country were well attended and are one part of our ongoing efforts to provide meaningful employment opportunities for people with disabilities, veterans with and without disabilities, foster youth, trafficking survivors and others facing barriers to employment.

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

"In the Army, you develop a mission mindset. PRIDE Industries is an awesome work environment for veterans because we truly have a mission to create employment for people with disabilities. I have three sisters with disabilities who were served by PRIDE Industries. When I saw the opening here, I jumped at it! It has been a perfect fit!"

PRIDE INDUSTRIES

A Haven for Military Veterans

"When I found PRIDE Industries, it was a blessing," said Ameer Habeeb, an Air Force veteran with a disability. "I was managing restaurants and reached a ceiling where I couldn't earn more." Ameer joined PRIDE Industries as an environmental technician and is now Director of Environmental Services.

PRIDE Industries has long been committed to hiring and supporting military veterans. We strive to provide meaningful employment opportunities and a supportive work environment for individuals transitioning from military service and military veterans searching for new civilian employment opportunities. Here's what we offer:

A SUPPORTIVE CULTURE

PRIDE Industries deeply values the unique skills and experiences veterans bring to the workplace. We understand the challenges veterans face in transitioning to civilian life and offer a supportive environment where they can thrive. Veterans are welcomed and provided with the tools and resources they need to succeed.

Together with our employment partners, we build inclusive, diverse work environments where veterans with disabilities can thrive.

DIVERSE JOB OPPORTUNITIES

We offer a range of entry level, management, and executive level job opportunities in fields as diverse as manufacturing and logistics, facilities management, business operations, skilled trades, administrative support, workforce development, vocational rehabilitation and customer service. This diversity ensures that veterans can find positions that align with their interests and experience, allowing them to leverage their military experience and advance their careers.

SKILL DEVELOPMENT

PRIDE Industries is dedicated to helping veterans develop the skills they need to

"If you have the opportunity to work at PRIDE Industries, do it. The company cares about veterans, and it cares about me. When I met the president of the company, he knew my name. You are a whole person here."

—AMEER HABEEB,

succeed in the civilian workforce. We offer training programs and paid internships that provide veterans with hands-on experience and the opportunity to learn new skills to enhance employability and expand career opportunities.

FLEXIBLE WORK ARRANGEMENTS

We understand that veterans may face unique situations before and after they transition to civilian life. We offer flexible work arrangements, such as part-time or remote work options, and time for medical and mental health appointments. This flexibility can be invaluable for veterans who are balancing work with other commitments, such as education, health care, or family responsibilities.

STRONG COMMUNITY

PRIDE Industries is more than just a workplace; it's a community, including a thriving Veterans Employee Resource Group (ERG) (see page 6). Veterans who join the ERG often find a strong sense of camaraderie and belonging. This supportive community can be invaluable in helping veterans succeed in the workplace.

PRIDE Industries is committed to supporting veterans, providing diverse job opportunities, and offering a supportive work environment for veterans transitioning to the civilian workforce.

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

PRIDE Industries Honors All Who Have Served

American military veterans employed at PRIDE Industries are encouraged to self-identify with our Veterans Liaison. With this information, we are better able to serve their needs and monitor our progress in veteran recruitment. This also lets us thank them for their service and sacrifice for our nation.

However, not all of our military veteran employees wish to be recognized, and for those that do, the information they share about their service varies. Their reasons are their own and are respected. Whether listed on these pages, or absent by choice, their contributions are equally appreciated. We thank them all!

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

"My time in the Army taught me the value of the continuous development of leadership skills, and I continue to use and develop my skills, leading my team every day at PRIDE Industries. Just like in the Army, we work together as a team to accomplish our mission."
